SENIORS

Life seems too little when life is past,
And the memories of sorrow flee so fast,
And the woes which were bitter to you and to me
Shall vanish as raindrops which fall in the sea;
And all that has hurt us shall be made good,
And the puzzles which hindered be understood
And the long, hard march through the wilderness bare
Seem but a day's journey when once we are there.

THE SEASON

Fifth seeded Appalachian at the beginning of the season pulled herself along, knocking opponents right and left, and ended deadlocked with Elon for first place in the North State Conference.

Coach Francis Hoover, working with a comparatively green team, carefully guided his boys to the tournament at Statesville, where a hot Guilford team caught the Apps off balance.

Courtmen like Hunt, Mast, Stanley, Pvecha, Collins, and Hooks scored an astounding number of points on the home boards over the season. Adversaries will be wise to respect the Apps next year when again the Hooversmen take the floor.

WRESTLING

Blasting opponent teams into smithereens, shattering the Carolinas AAU Tournament into fragments, the Appalachian matmen, under the capable leadership of Coach "Red" Watkins, have probably been over zealous in their conquests. The fear of being beaten has caused team after team to cancel its meet with Appalachian. But the wrestlers of Appalachian State will be looking to new horizons in the coming decades, and even if there is no team here in the years to come, their display of superiority on the mat will always be imprinted on the hearts of every person associated with wrestling throughout the United States.

They have brought fame to our halls year after year, adding laurel upon laurel, and it is with great feelings of mixed emotions that we bid them . . . so long.
